

ACPACI FILES

Official Newsletter of the Association of CPAs in Commerce & Industry

VOLUME 8 ISSUE 1 ■ January - June 2017

For registration & hotel reservation, please contact the ACPACI Secretariat at (+63 2) 573-7747, (+63 2) 898-1235, (0936) 041-0850 and (0939) 494-7869 and look for TJ Clariza or Deo Mendania or email us at acpaci@yahoo.com.

Jose T. Sio
Chairman of the Board
SM Investments Corporation
Keynote Speaker
Going Beyond the Role of a CFO

Lope A. Doromal, Jr.
Chief Technologist &
Client Technical Advisor
IBM Philippines
Technical Session 1
Block Chair: Transforming the Ledger

Gina Rose R. Mariano
Automation Process
Consultant
IBM Philippines
Technical Session 1
Intelligent Automation: The Cognitive Workplace

Ma. Cecilia F. Ortiz
Audit & Assurance Function Leader
Hawaii, Japan & Co., Denzetsu Philippines
Technical Session 2
Millennials in Focus

Atty. Eunez Marie J. Mata-Perez
Managing Partner, TMRP Attorneys at Law
2014 President, TMAP
Technical Session 3
The Role of CPAs in Modern Economy as they Go Beyond in their Profession and Tax Reform Highlights

Roderick M. Danao
Vice Chairman and Assurance Managing Partner
Isla Lipana & Co., PwC Member Firm
Technical Session 4
Good Governance and Transparency:
Preventing Fraud from the Eyes of the C-Suites

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Going Beyond, Infinity is the Limit

Ma. Fedna B. Parallag
ACPACI President

That fateful day, January 26, is still vivid on my mind, as I shared the Association's plans and programs for 2017 during the Induction Ceremonies of the new set of ACPACI's Board of Directors, Officers and Chairpersons. These plans were conceptualized when we had our strategic planning in Tagaytay City early that month. It has been six months, and my term as President is half-way through. In my mind, there are still a lot of things to accomplish, and with God's grace, I know, as we all work together, we will be able to realize our theme this year, "Going Beyond".

On behalf of the hardworking Directors, Officers and Committee members, I am proud to present the following activities that we have successfully completed:

ACPACI Going Beyond Uplifting the Professional Growth and Advancement of Accountants.

We completed three seminars covering topics such as updates on tax, regulatory and compliance issuances and rulings, internal control compliance, as well as Economic outlook and soft skills courses. We also offered affordable one "80 full Continuing Professional Development (CPD) Seminar Package" last June 2017, covering the number of CPD units required for accreditation which is attuned with the CPD competence areas to comply with the Board of Accountancy (BOA) Resolution and other regulatory requirements. These topics would help promote professional advancement and equip members to be more relevant to their stakeholders, to embrace opportunities and to overcome the challenges brought by the evolving developments in the accountancy profession and regional and global competition.

We participated in various consultative meetings and dialogues with the BOA on the draft CPD operating guidelines, deferment of implementing paragraphs 13 and 14 of BOA Resolution No. 2017-163 in relation to BOA Resolution No. 2016-03 and draft BOA resolution on streamlining procedures and reducing documentary requirements for accreditation of CPAs, and submitted position papers on BOA Resolution 2016-03.

For the second half of my term, we will offer interesting, necessary and relevant topics and enlist sought-after speakers and luminaries in the Accountancy Week Celebration in July 2017 and in the Annual National Convention to be held in the "City of Smiles," Bacolod City, on September 14 to 16.

Continued on page 2

Continued from page 1

ACPACI Going Beyond the National level.

We have reconnected with our existing ACPACI chapters like Pangasinan and Cebu. We had a meaningful dialogue with the Chapters' Board of Directors and Officers as we presented our Chapter Policy Manual which was formulated this year, and offered assistance for the furtherance and betterment of the chapters as well as retaining and expanding their membership base.

We will revisit our two existing chapters in Central Luzon -Pampanga/Bulacan and Bacolod. We will continue to expand our membership among top and small- and medium-sized companies by pursuing the creation of different chapters in major regions of the country. Our objective this year is to create chapters in Mindanao. We have already identified the set of founding officers for the Davao Chapter and we plan to set the induction ceremonies in August. We also hope to create two more chapters this year.

ACPACI Going Beyond the Numbers.

For this year, through our corporate social responsibility arm, "ACPACI Cares," we reached out and shared our blessings with selected Filipino communities in need. We refocused our outreach projects this year by touching base with the indigenous peoples -- like the Dumagats in Antipolo, Rizal and the Mangyans in Oriental Mindoro. We partnered with Climb Against Cancer Pilipinas, which helped us connect with these beneficiary communities. We are set to visit the Aetas in Olongapo on August 19, and two communities during the Yuletide season for our gift giving to special children and elderly.

We also extended scholarships to deserving college students of Pamantasan ng Lungsod ng Maynila through our "ACPACI Scholarship Program". We will also sponsor another five outstanding accounting students of the Polytechnic University of the Philippines. To support finance our scholars and our "ACPACI Cares" Projects, we will raise funds by sponsoring Repertory Philippines' "Beauty and the Beast," on August 12, and by launching the "Family Bingo" project before the end of the year.

With the activities we still have to undertake, we enjoy all to continue supporting ACPACI by actively participating in our seminars, projects and other initiatives.

Finally, let me thank everyone for all the support, and for sharing your time in carrying through the initiatives and programs of ACPACI as we journey towards the end of the year. We will continue to work together as one, with our committed and dedicated Directors, Officers and Committee Chairs, and the unwavering cooperation from our members, with one noble purpose, we will achieve our strategic plans and activities as we go further and as we Go Beyond, until we reach the boundary of the boundless and the limit of the limitless.

To conclude, I will leave you with a very apt quote from Arthur C. Clarke, a sci-fi writer and author of 2001: A Space Odyssey, "The only way of finding the limits of the possible is by going beyond them into the impossible."

Thank you all.

GMM1

Induction Ceremony | January 26, 2017

ACPACI Inducts New Set of Directors and Officers

On January 26, 2017, the Association of CPAs in Commerce and Industry held its Induction Ceremonies for its new set of Directors and Officers at the Makati Diamond Residences, Makati City in its first General Membership Meeting with the theme, "Going Beyond."

The incoming Directors and Officers attended the event clad in their teal green accented formal wear. The dinner started before the program, and the affair was formally opened through an invocation and the singing of the Philippine National Anthem, followed by the welcome remarks of Ms. Liza Glodoviza. Ms. Cynthia Molina, ACPACI's outgoing President, delivered her valedictory address and honored the Officers and members who exhibited exemplary performance and offered unending assistance to ACPACI and to her during her term, with the presentation of the annual Presidential Awards.

Atty. Alexander Cabrera, Chairman and Senior Partner of Isla Lipana & Co., inducted the incoming Directors and Officers and also delivered the keynote address. He concluded his speech with a poignant statement, "The next time we are asked, 'What is your profession?' I would suggest an answer: 'Our profession is about the preservation of trust.' Our real role is to protect what is true. As Accountants, our real job is to be custodians of the truth."

Afterwards, Ms. Molina turned over the symbolic Gavel to incoming President, Ms. Fedna Parallag. In return, the latter presented a Leadership Award to Ms. Molina.

The Directors and Officers who took their oath and promised to do their jobs with utmost honor and respect were: Ms. Fedna B. Parallag, President and Director for Meetings; Ms. Katherine Sobremonte, Executive Oathtaking of 2017 ACPACI Board of Directors and Officers with Atty. Alexander Cabrera as the Inducting Officer; photo op and awarding of token to Atty. Cabrera.

Vice President and Director for Fellowship and Sports; Ms. Rowena Lemen, Secretary and Director for Website and Publication; Ms. Cynthia Campos, Treasurer and Director for Ways and Means; Atty. Walter Abela, Jr., Auditor and Director for Professional Development, and Ms. Cynthia Molina, Immediate Past President.

The other Directors who were inducted were: Ms. Ofelia Padiz, Director for Membership Development; Mr. Ma. Theodoro Josephat Martinez, Director for Annual Convention; Ms. Edna Constantino, Director for Scholarship; Mr. Amelito Casas, Director for Social Involvement; Atty. Jecylene Briones, Director for Regulatory, Special Projects and Election, and Atty. Cesar Ilagan, Director for ACPACI Chapters.

Continued on page 4

Sitio Paglitaw, Antipolo, Rizal | May 13, 2017

The Gift of Caring

ACPACI has always been committed to its continuous service to the community and society as a whole. This year, the Association remained true to that commitment albeit, taking a sharp turn in doing its social involvement activities. On May 13, 2017, with the supervision of ACPACI Director Al Casas and the Social Involvement Committee, the Association, together with the Climb Against Cancer (CAC) Pilipinas, took on the tough challenge of trekking mountains and hills and mounting horses (no other form of transportation) to reach the far flung village of the Dumagats in Sitio Paglitaw, Brgy. Calawis, Antipolo, Rizal.

The climb had a clear purpose: to deliver school supplies for the Dumagats' children, and bring water hose and water containers for their household use. It was 4 am and the day had barely started when the members and volunteers departed from the bustling Metro Manila. They arrived at the meeting area around 7 o'clock in the morning. The softly glowing sun began illuminating the mountains beneath it when their hike began.

It was a 2 to 3-hour ascent for the non-climbers. The trail was labyrinthine, rocky and mostly rough road, the trekkers' shoes and boots were caked with dirt. There were steep hills, and the summer sun became unforgiving with each passing minute. Still, the climbers endured, painstakingly making each purposeful stride. The sights of the mountains and rivers and wild flowers randomly growing along with the bushes beside the trail gave them a much needed respite. After countless steps, immeasurable perspiration, numerous coaxing and a couple of rivers to cross, Sitio Paglitaw came into view.

Though tired, the hikers quickly set up the cornucopia of goods, school supplies and slippers they brought for the Dumagats. Some of the volunteers cooked Spaghetti, hotdogs and barbeque for the locals and themselves. The kids were mostly shy, but after a little persuasion, they participated in the activities prepared for them. Later, they started to warm up and smile. After the activities and games, the climbers shared their food to the natives. Past noon, the turn-over of the items to the village was completed. By 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the volunteers started their descent.

ACPACI officers and volunteers sharing light moments together with the Dumagat children.

A few decided to not pass up the chance to ride a horse on their way down. Some climbers stopped by the river to take a dip and enjoy its cool, clear water for a while. Eventually, they all went home tired, but filled with this sense of accomplishment for going beyond their physical capabilities to bring happiness, empathy and compassion to the Dumagats, because they cared.

Balite Mangyan School, Naujan, Oriental Mindoro

June 24, 2017

A Rewarding Sojourn

ACPACI Cares tarpaulin is proudly displayed by ACPACI officers, members and volunteers, together with Climb Against Cancer Pilipinas, during the outreach program for the Mangyan community in Mindoro.

The second social involvement activity lined up by ACPACI entailed taking a two-hour bus ride from the ACPACI members' meeting point to the Batangas pier; getting into a fast craft ferry going to Calapan City, Oriental Mindoro; renting a jeepney to bring the volunteers to a remote school in Balite, Naujan and taking a 15 to 20-minute walk under the scorching heat of the sun. The intense heat made their journey uncomfortable, but it was one that they were willing to take. At 5 o'clock in the morning on June 24, 2017, ACPACI members departed from Metro Manila to bring school supplies to the Mangyan kids in Balite Mangyan School in Oriental Mindoro. This activity was in partnership once again with the Climb Against Cancer (CAC) Pilipinas.

Upon arrival in Calapan City, they bought provisions and snacks for the kids from the supermarket. It was almost noon when they left the City for Naujan Town. The jeepney took them as far as possible, but when the road became too difficult for the vehicle to negotiate, the team alighted from the jeep and brought the supplies on foot, after taking a short break to eat lunch al fresco, right there, on the grass, by the road, in full view of all the passersby.

The natives met them halfway to help them with the boxes. They were received with shy, yet warm smiles and most kids paid their respect by doing a mano gesture -- taking the volunteers' hand to their forehead.

Mrs. Delin, the leader, welcomed the volunteers, and soon after, the supplies were distributed among the children who were gathered there in the school ground. They played some games to keep themselves busy, as the elders looked on. After a while, Mrs. Delin asked a kid to blow the carabao horn to call out the other kids to order. According to Mrs. Delin, honking the horn was like ringing the bell, signaling that the gift giving had started and they went inside a classroom. After the kids received their gifts which included slippers and school supplies, they played games and the racket made them giggle and laugh heartily. Snacks and drinks were served too! It was a merriment to remember.

It was almost 4 o'clock in the afternoon when the team left for Calapan City to finally go home. It was a long and tiring sojourn, but a meaningful one because ACPACI members had once again demonstrated their passion for people and community; their ability to care for people they've never even met; and their capacity to make the world (for the Mangyans) a better place. Indeed, the "longest and the toughest journeys are normally the most rewarding ones."

Continued from page 2

GMM 1

ACPACI Inducts New Set of Directors and Officers

Taking the podium, Ms. Parallag delivered her inaugural speech, she articulated the plans, which she and the Directors and Officers intended to undertake for the Association. A ceremonial toast ensued to signify the Association’s warm welcome for its new Officers, and then she inducted the National Committee Chairpersons: Mr. Julian Tecson, Annual Convention; Ms. Janis Maghinay, Professional Development; Ms. Floredee Odulio, Membership Development; Ms. Mary Ann Palad, Meetings; Ms. Cecile Carandang, Ways and Means; Ms. Lolita Tang, Social Involvement; Ms. Cristina M. Gajunia, Publication and Website; Mr. Marvin Madrigalejo, Fellowships and Sports; Ms. Consuelo Cadelina, PICPA Coordination; Mr. Edgar Molina, ACPACI Chapters; Mr. Edward Roguel, Scholarship and SOASP; Ms. Hazel Hapin, Regulatory and Special Projects, and Ms. Ofelia Oroceo, Election.

Other highlights of the event include the induction of ACPACI new members and an intermission number from Ms. Mica Angela Galang of Isla Lipana & Co. Ms. Janis Maghinay delivered the closing remarks as well as hosted the program.

Picture caption: Clockwise from right ACPACI President, Ms. Fedna Parallag, delivering her inaugural speech; induction of new ACPACI members; Past President, Ms. Cecilia Patricio, doing the ceremonial toast with Ms. Parallag and outgoing ACPACI President, Ms. Cynthia Molina.

2nd GMM
March 16, 2017 ACPACI Holds Tax Update Seminar

It was the height of Tax and Audit Season and the members of the Association of CPAs in Commerce and Industry are raring to hear tax updates that could help them prepare their company financial statements and tax returns. Thus, ACPACI presented its 2nd General Membership Meeting & Seminar on March 16, 2017 at Makati Diamond Residences, with the members’ thirst for relevant tax information in mind.

Ms. Corazon Guidote, SVP of SM Investments Corporation, discussed the country’s 2017 Economic Outlook and gave meaningful insights on the latest development on ASEAN Integration and what its impact to the country. She highlighted indicators of economic growth and the factors that affect the economic movement, citing reasons as to why there are lags in the economic progress.

Honorable Gerard Sanvictores, BOA Member, handled the GMM’s 1st technical session. He lectured on the latest BOA updates, with focus on BOA Resolution 2016-03, which requires CPA Certification to be attached to Audited Financial Statements. This resolution has been arguably a trending topic among the practitioners however, its implementation is suspended further discussion and consultation with the stakeholders.

The second technical session was the most anticipated and awaited one-The Tax Updates and year-end reminders for the financial statements and income tax return preparers. The hot topic was ably presented by Atty. Walter Abela, Jr., Tax Partner of Navarro Amper & Co.

Open forums to accommodate questions and clarifications ensued in every session. The meeting was concluded at 5:30PM.

3RD GMM

May 18, 2017

ACPACI Offers Summer Workshop on Handling Stress, Tax Assessment and Internal Control Compliance

The 3rd General Membership Meeting of ACPACI was held right after the busy audit season, on May 18, 2017, at Makati Diamond Residences. It was meant to relieve its members of their post-audit stress as the luncheon meeting tackled the subject, Stress Free-Living: 7 Proven Tips and Techniques presented by Mr. Howell V. Mabalot, producer and talk show host of The Business Portal: On the Corporate World. Truly, he shared some helpful fresh ways on how to un-plug, de-stress and make time for oneself.

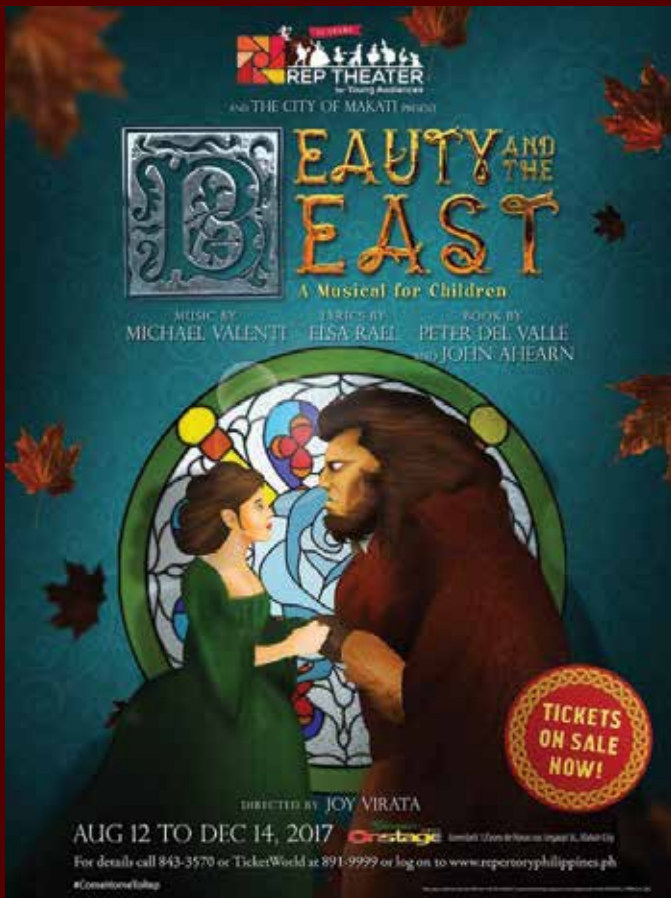

After lunch, the floor was given to ACPACI President, Ms. Fedna Parallag; she discussed the Association's accomplishments by far and its future plans, and inducted the new ACPACI members during the President's Time. This was followed shortly by a technical session, "COSO Framework: A Guide to Internal Control Compliance," discussed by Mr. Jesse Rey Meneses, Chairman, Financial Management Program of Tarlac State University.

The last technical session, Mr. Carlos Hilario R. Mateo of Isla Lipana & Co., talked about, "Handling Tax Assessment: Flight or Fight", the session aimed to give the members insights and pointers on dealing with tax examination and audit by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Open forums, moderated by Atty. Jecylene Briones, Director for Regulatory and Special Projects, followed after each session to allow members to raise questions and share their own experiences.

ACPACI Officers, members and guests having a group picture with Mr. Howell V. Mabalot.

Be Our Guest!

The Association of CPAs in Commerce and Industry, in partnership with Repertory Philippines, invites everyone to watch Beauty and the Beast on August 12, 2017 at Onstage Theatre, Greenbelt 1, Makati City.

Come and see a "tale as old as time," a story about how true love cures the curse of an enchanted rose beneath a bell jar. Meet a provincial babe, Belle who finds the meaning of true beauty within by patience and open mind to see what the Beast's heart is truly made of. See the blighted Prince who is turned into a Beast and his sacrifice by freeing Belle, although it breaks his heart and ruins his chance of lifting the curse. Be the guest of Belle's best castle buddies: Mrs. Potts, the castle's enchanted cook/teapot and her son Chip; the Beast's men Friday, the duo, Lumiere and Cogsworth; sing "Gaston" with Belle's vain suitor Gaston and his side kick Le Fou, and more. Find out how the Beast transforms into a Prince and becomes Belle's beau, and how they live happily ever after. Beauty and the Beast is a testament that one can never go wrong with kindness, for kindness kills cruelty and the beast within.

Beauty and the Beast is ACPACI's fund raising activity, proceeds from ticket sales will go the ACPACI's scholarship fund for the benefit of its scholars from the Polytechnic University of the Philippines (PUP) and Pamantasan ng Lungsod ng Maynila (PLM).

ACPACI
FILES
EDITORIAL BOARD

Cristina M. Gajunia
Chairperson
Publication and Website

Rowena I. Lemen
Liaison Director

Fedna B. Parallag
ACPACI President

Contributors: Winnie G. Cuico Fritz Kein T. Ortiz

Nanette N. Tabuac
Editor-in-Chief

Please visit our website:
www.acpaci.com.ph

All about the Chapters

The Association of Certified Public Accountants (ACPACI) is driven and committed to grow, retain and reconnect with its stakeholder-members and colleagues in the profession, and to forge relationships and network through its membership development programs and chapter rejuvenation and creation.

The committees on Membership Development and Chapters headed by Ms. Ofelia Padiz and Atty. Cesar Ilagan, respectively, continue to pursue programs and initiatives to expand the Association's membership base not only in Metro Manila but also nationwide.

Through the unwavering and dedicated efforts of the committee directors and chairpersons, ACPACI visited its two existing chapters—Pangasinan and Cebu-- during the year, and is aiming to create the Davao Chapter soon.

ACPACI National Office representatives with Dean Estelita Aguirre and ACPACI Pangasinan Chapter President, Ms. Leila Chua-Sy and guests.

PANGASINAN

On June 2, ACPACI Pangasinan Chapter conducted a seminar at the Star Plaza Hotel in Dagupan City. ACPACI National Office provided a very popular speaker, Dean Estelita Aguirre, who expounded on the topic, "ASEAN Mutual Recognition Arrangement (MRA)." Dean Aguirre is also a past president of ACPACI. In her lecture, she instilled awareness and preparedness to the participants and accountants the opportunities and benefits of the MRA. She sagely opined that Accountants should up the ante their skills to remain competitive vis-à-vis their Asian counterparts in view of the ASEAN Economic Integration, and assessed the readiness of the Philippines to the ASEAN integration initiative.

A meeting was held after the seminar led by Pangasinan ACPACI Chapter President, Ms. Leila Chua-Sy, together with the Chapter's officers and members. Others present during the seminar and meeting were ACPACI President, Fedna Parallag; Liaison Director for Chapters, Atty. Cesar Ilagan; Committee Chair for Chapters, Mr. Edgar Molina; and Admin Manager, Mr. Fritz Ortiz.

CEBU

On June 17, Ms. Parallag and her Chapters Team attended the Board of Directors meeting of the Cebu Chapter at the Fifties Café, Crowne Regency Tower & Hotel in Cebu City to show support and involvement. The Cebu Chapter President, Ms. Susan King Bernardo, presided the meeting. The group exchanged pleasantries, shared their experiences, common challenges and successes in the National office and Cebu chapter. Also, during this meeting, the lineup of topics and speakers for the "80 Full CPD Seminar Package" to be offered by Cebu Chapter to the CPAs in their locality was discussed and finalized.

Ms. Parallag, together with the ACPACI National Office Team, meeting with ACPACI Cebu Chapter President, Ms. Susan King Bernardo and some Cebu Chapter members.

DAVAO

On May 25, Ms. Parallag and Mr. Ortiz met with PICPA Davao Chapter officers led by its President, Marko Romeo Fuentes, and Commerce and Industry Sectoral Head, Joseliza "Pie" Eralino, and CPAs in the Commerce and Industry sector to create the ACPACI Chapter Davao. Ms. Parallag discussed what is ACPACI, its objectives and purpose, and the benefits of creating a chapter. The participants were excited to be founding officers and members of the to-be created ACPACI chapter- the first one in Mindanao.

ACPACI Davao will have its induction of officers in August.

With PICPA Davao President, Marko Romeo Fuentes and some PICPA Davao members.

The ACPACI National officers, during their Chapter visit, introduced the Chapter Policy Manual which was created in 2017, and discussed the assistance the National Office could provide like seminars, speakers, application for CPD accreditation and application for BOA accreditation. They also shared experiences at the National Office in recruiting new members, retaining existing members and reconnecting with inactive members, and other best practices.

2017 Oathtaking Ceremonies of CPAs

June 29, 2017

ACPACI's SOASP 2016 Champion tops CPA Board Exam

ACPACI President, Ms. Fedna Parallag, graced the Oathtaking Ceremonies of the new Certified Public Accountants (CPAs) for the May 2017 CPA Licensure Examination on June 29 at the Plenary Hall, Philippine International Convention Center in Pasay City. A total of 3,389 successful examinees passed the exam given by the Board of Accountancy (BoA) in the cities of Manila, Baguio, Cagayan de Oro, Cebu, Davao, Iloilo, Legazpi and Tacloban.

The oath taking ceremonies of the new CPAs were held in two (2) batches – one in the morning (AM session) and one in the afternoon (PM session). The event kicked off with the opening remarks of the BOA member, Hon. Eliseo Aurellado, followed by the message from the BOA Chairman, Hon. Joel Tan-Torres. The new CPAs were inspired by the talks given by luminaries of top corporations in the Philippines, namely Mr. Nestor Tan, President of Banco de Oro Unibank, Inc. (AM session) and Mr. Jaime Bautista, President of PAL Holdings, Inc. (PM session) as they shared their experiences and achievements.

These talks were followed by the presentation of awards to the CPA board exam topnotchers, the top performing schools, and the presentation and oath taking of the new CPAs. The response from the CPA board passers was delivered by the First Placer of the May 2017 CPA Licensure Examination tion - Vianca Pearl Inot Amores (AM session) and Marianito Jesus Berdin del Rio (PM session). The ceremony was concluded with the closing remarks delivered by BOA member, Hon. Gerard Sanvictores.

With BOA Chair, Honorable Joel Tan-Torres, PICPA National President, Ramonito Pernato, PICPA members and guests, and Asia's Got Talent alum, Gerphil Flores.

Vianca, who graduated from the University of San Carlos in Cebu, was the Champion of ACPACI's 18th Search for the Outstanding Accounting Students of the Philippines (SOASP), which was held on December 5, 2016 at the Makati Diamond Residences. The SOASP is an annual nationwide academic event sponsored by ACPACI in partnership with P&A Foundation, Inc. It aims to determine the top Accountancy students in the country and seeks to offer career opportunities for the participants.

Congratulations to Vianca Pearl and the new CPAs, and welcome to the Accountancy profession.

ACPACI Family Outing

May 20, 2017

Loreland Farm Resort, Antipolo, Rizal

ACPACI 2017 NATIONAL BOARD OF DIRECTORS

MA. FEDNA B. PARALLAG
President & Liaison Director
for Meetings

EDNA L. CONSTANTINO
Liaison Director
for Scholarships

ALMELITO R. CASAS
Liaison Director
for Social Involvement

KATHERINE U. SOBREMORTE
Executive Vice President &
Liaison Director for Fellowship
& Sports

JECYLENE T. BRIONES
Liaison Director for Regulatory,
Special Projects & Election

WILHELMINA G. CUICO
Executive Director

ROWENA I. LEMEN
Secretary & Liaison Director
for Publications & Website

OFELIA O. PADIZ
Liaison Director
for Membership Development

CYNTHIA A. MOLINA
Ex-Officio Director

CYNTHIA A. CAMPOS
Treasurer & Liaison Director
for Ways & Means

CESAR I. ILAGAN
Liaison Director
for ACPACI Chapters

WALTER L. ABELA
Auditor & Liaison Director
for Professional Development

MA. THEODORO JOSEPHAT C. MARTINEZ
Liaison Director
for Annual Convention

ACPACI 2017 COMMITTEE CHAIRPERSONS

MARY ANN N. PALAD
Committee Chairperson
for Meetings

OFELIA P. OROCEO
Committee Chairperson
for Election

EDWARD L. ROGUEL
Committee Chairperson
for Scholarships, SOASP & Tax

CECILIA C. CARANDANG
Committee Chairperson
for Ways & Means

MARVIN L. MADRIGALEJO
Committee Chairperson
Fellowship & Sports

EDGAR H. MOLINA
Committee Chairperson
for ACPACI Chapters

JANIS M. MAGHINAY
Committee Chairperson
for Professional Development

CHRISTINA M. GAJUNIA
Committee Chairperson
for Publications & Website

CONSUELO O. CADELINA
Committee Chairperson
for PICPA Coordination

HAZEL ANN F. HAPIN
Committee Chairperson
for Regulatory and Special Projects

FLOREDEE T. ODULIO
Committee Chairperson
for Membership Development

JAMES PATRICK Q. BONUS
Committee Chairperson
for Regulatory and Special Project

LOLITA P. TANG
Committee Chairperson
for Social Involvement

JULIAN M. TECSON
Committee Chairperson
for Annual Convention

SPONSORS:

FIRST CIRCLE

UNIONBANK